Welcome to the RSSS Support Site
We at RSSS are excited to share the new RSSS 12.5 Release with you. To assist you in transitioning to the new release, we have provided the new rsssupport.com site. Interview Videos to cover the highlights of the new version. It includes curriculum suggestions to determine how to approach the training videos. We suggest what order to watch the 12.5 training videos on this site, along with providing practice sessions and test documents you may utilize in the training of your store employees. You still have access to the RSSS Version 11.5 training videos and documentation off this site too. The categories are defined slightly different from our previous support site; however, the information is still all here...just the look and feel are different. We hope you enjoy the new support site!
